GHT brings our customers genuine hope through technology.

GHT, based in Korea, is a manufacturer that specialized in premium PPF.

Based on 15 years of research and development for plastic top coating technology, we've independently developed our unique hard coating convergence technology (which is a core element influencing PPF properties) and finally succeeded in the commercialization of world-class anti-fouling PPF.

We guarantee our PPF is world-class with non-yellowing, discoloration properties, anti-fouling, and enhancing workability through excellent elongation and adhesion.

Since we have our own hard coating technology, design capability, and process technology, we are producing high-quality PPF with minimized production loss and reduced manufacturing costs compared to other manufacturers.

Based on this, we can give our customers a very competitive price and are proud to increase our market share rapidly.

Through the three key elements of R&D, commercialization, and manufacturing, we are achieving world #1 quality and building a global brand reputation in international markets with customer satisfaction from installers to end users.

We will do our best to serve our customers by providing innovative solutions that can lead to mutually profitable growth and shared success.
